Art Unit: 1793

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-7, drawn to a hydraulic cement composition comprising organic (I),(II),(III), or (IV).

Group II, claim(s) 8-14, drawn to a coating agent for steel comprising the organic (I), (II), (III), or (IV).

Group III, claim(s) 15,19,20, and 21, drawn to a process for coating steel structures with Group I hydraulic cement and organic (I), (II), (III), or (IV).

Group IV, claim(s) 16 and 18, drawn to a process for coating steel structure with Group II (organic coating agent (I),(II),(III), or (IV).

Group V, claim(s) 17, drawn to a process for coating a concrete surface with Group II coating agent (not a direct coating on steel substrate but concrete surface).

Group VI, claim(s) 22, drawn to a process for making a cement comprising mixing organic (I), (II), (III), or (IV) with said cement (not on surface but mixed throughout cement).

The inventions listed as Groups II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Claim 8 is anticipated or obvious over Walter (US 2,574,516-see also answer 37 of 37 in search abstract), Blum et al. (DE 1099257 or GB 895628 abstract-answer 33 or 37), Von Bonin et al. (DE 3530358 abstract-answer 11 of 37), or Rosenfeld (Answer 13 of 37-Russian Article abstract-"Study of mechanism of hydrogen sulfide corrosion...").

All of the above cited abstract references teach a composition that anticipates the general formula (I) for applicants' claim 8. Even if not anticipated, the references above teach the same range of amounts for values such as n, m+K, m, k, etc. Please refer to the structures described in each abstract and it will be readily seen that the structure of

(I) is within the teaching of this prior art. Note also that Answer 37 of 37 (Walter US '516) even teaches Formula (II) in the abstract. Therefore, the invention of Group II do not relate to a single general inventive concept and no special technical contribution over the prior art. Restriction is proper.

It is noted that the instant examiner works in the cement art so his art would fall into what is Group I. However, it is assumed applicants directly add (I), (II), (III), or (IV) to cement and mix these components. It is assumed Group I does not relate to coating a steel substrate and adding it to cement. It would appear should applicants elect Group I product, potentially Groups II and VI could be rejoined. If Group II product were elected, it would appear the remaining Groups not mentioned could be rejoined to this product. Nevertheless, only an initial PTO STIC Search was performed for the purposes of proper restriction. The examiner has not personally and directly searched manually or electronically the cement subclasses for his own art but it would appear less art may be available with a cement + organic (I) through (IV). Applicants thus may consider electing Group I for examination.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
